

Building Efficiency HW #1

Calculate R for the following wall structures (in Imperial units)

Use this to calculate the energy flux for a 20°C temperature difference across each wall