Spring 2019

- Exams were very difficult to prepare for because some questions were not thoroughly discussed. Could improve the questions on exams to more relevant topics discussed. Also, certain deductions had to be made on the exam that were not discussed in class, which are very difficult to make when you have the pressure of actually taking the test and having limited time. In a professional environment taking these deductions would not be limited to time and therefor I did not find these questions relevant to course understanding.
